Patrols And Landing Parties Swarming Down West Coast

MAKE MAIN THRUST DOWN THIS SECTOR

Bravery Of Australians In Turning Flank Attack Is Lauded

(By Associated Press)
SINGAPORE, Jan. 20.—Japanese patrols and landing parties, swarming along a 30-mile long west coast belt which reached to within 60 miles of Singapore island, were putting heavy pressure upon the defenders, including newly arrived Australians, today while their air force engaged in what the British called an indiscriminate bombing of this fortress city.

Despite the courageous stand of Australians rushed to the west coast to stem infiltration tactics, today's communique said the Japanese were very active along the entire coastal front from the Muar river, 90 miles north of this island, to Batu Pahat, barely 60 miles away.

Press on East, Also
On the east coast, too, Japanese patrols, penetrating nearer their objective, were reported and to have reached the Endau area, 75 miles from Johore strait, the last most defending this fortified island.

It was on the west coast, however, that the main thrust continued. There, the British reported bombing and machine gunning engagements by their air force.

Barges and small boats engaged in putting Japanese soldiers ashore were machine gunned and damaged, and farther north in the Japanese-occupied rubber center of Kuala Lumpur, British bombers swooped down in an effort to knock out part of the Japanese air force on a field. Positive results were not reported, however.

The communique said bombs "appear to have been dropped indiscriminately, falling to a large extent in residential areas" when Japanese warplanes roared over Singapore this morning after yesterday's respite.

The British said that altogether six Japanese planes, including a navy plane and a bomber in the Singapore raid, were shot down and that they had lost two fighters themselves.

Australians Stand Ground

The Japanese advances on the west coast were made despite valiant Australians who in one instance were reported to have stood their ground, even though encircled, until relief came.

The Australian accounts said their anti-tank gunners, backed by infantry, destroyed 10 Japanese.

SALEM'S TAX RATE TO BE 20.5 MILLS

Salem city tax rate on real estate this year will be 20.5 mills, County Auditor Ross Fisher announced today. This is an increase of one and a half mills over the 19 mill rate of last year, due to the special tax levy voted for city school purposes last summer.

The total of 20.5 mills includes three mills for county purposes; school district—3.5 mills inside the limit, 4.5 outside for general purposes; and two mills outside for debt; township—three tenths of a mill, inside city—2.9 mills inside for general operating expenses, three tenths of a mill inside for pensions, 3 mills outside for debt and one mill outside for sewers.

Churchill Pilots Plane On Way Home

On his return to England, Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain took over the controls of the plane as it sped across the Atlantic, as pictured above. Churchill, who spent three weeks in the United States and Canada, departed from Bermuda in a 74-passenger flying boat.

Churchill, Facing House, Offers Confidence Vote; Wins Delay In War Debate

Tells Restive Members He Shares Anxiety Over Pacific Operations But Expresses "Growing Confidence" In Victory

BULLETIN
(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 20.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in reply to a question from Laborite William James Thorne, told the house of commons today that Britain had been unable to strengthen the fortifications of Hongkong until 1938 because of her adherence to the Washington treaty which lapsed that year but which had been denounced by Japan two years before.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Prime Minister Churchill, confronting a restive house of commons, informed its members today that he shared their anxiety about operations in the Pacific but told them he had "growing confidence" in eventual victory there.

Announcing that a three-day debate would be held soon on the war situation, the prime minister also showed evidence of equal confidence in his personal strength.

Addressing parliament for the first time since his return from the historic conferences in Washington and Ottawa, the prime minister offered to call for a vote of confidence if the debate should disclose any challenge to his government.

As promised, liberal national member Edgar Granville moved that the house adjourn—a parliamentary device that would enable the members to question at once the adequacy of British strength guarding threatened Singapore. Churchill prevailed, however, when the speaker refused to entertain the motion. No member rose to support Granville and the matter was dropped. Such a motion requires the support of at least 40 members.

Hoarse-voiced and suffering from a cold, Churchill was loudly cheered when he entered the chamber.

In winning a postponement—which will enable him to consult advisers inaccessible to him during his absence in America—the prime minister proposed that his war review and any future major statements be recorded during delivery for subsequent broadcast.

There never has been a broadcast from the halls of parliament, nor a recording of the debate on its floor, and there was such a variety of opinion on Churchill's suggestion that he announced the proposition would be put to a vote later.

(The reason that speeches would be recorded in commons but withheld for later broadcast instead of being put directly on the air, presumably, is because the time and place of parliament's wartime meetings are kept secret.)

FARMERS SET FOR SESSIONS OF INSTITUTE

Annual Event Gets Under Way Here Wednesday Morning

WILL BE CONTINUED THROUGH THURSDAY

Business Bureau To Conduct Thursday Evening's Program

Farm folk from throughout the Columbiana-Mahoning county district are expected to complete their chores a little earlier tomorrow morning and forget their other cares for the time being in order that they might attend the 14th annual Salem Farmers' institute which will open at 10 a. m. Wednesday in the Memorial building.

Favorable weather conditions are expected to boost attendance figures at the institute, ranked as one of the most successful farm gatherings of its kind in the state.

The institute will continue with sessions Wednesday afternoon and evening, with a similar schedule in effect on Thursday. The Thursday evening program, however, will be held in the High school auditorium, sponsored by the Salem Business Bureau.

The annual institute play, this time a three-act comedy entitled "Spring Fever," will be presented at 8 p. m. Saturday in the High school auditorium.

Goshen grange will have charge of the opening session of the institute Wednesday morning. Willow Grove grange will have charge in the afternoon, with Perry grange members presiding in the evening. Thursday morning Mt. Nebo grange will have charge, while Salem grange will present the Thursday afternoon program.

The business bureau's Thursday evening program will be entirely musical, featuring the Ladies Welsh club quartet from Pittsburgh. Another musical aggregation, Griffin's Accordion Gypsies from Delroy, will be heard tomorrow night at the Memorial building.

Principal institute speakers will be Rev. R. Wobus, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church of Sidney, and Mrs. W. S. Ferguson of Lexington. Talent of the five participating granges will join in programs of music, readings and playlets.

New officers are expected to be elected at the business session Thursday morning.

tracks" have proven extremely effective.

Most of the artillery action at Batan is taking place along the American right flank where U. S. guns last week checked Japanese attempts at a break-through, and paved the way for a successful infantry counterattack.

Japanese observation planes fly over almost incessantly. When they discover an American position they summon dive bombers and use traced bullets to point out U. S. gun positions. At the same time they direct Japanese counter battery fire. Then the Americans catch hell for awhile.

Camouflage is the Americans' only defense against detection, and they have become masters at it.

I stood within 20 yards of a battery of big guns of a USAFFE artillery unit today and didn't spot the guns until they opened up with earthshaking blasts.

The target was a large concentration of Japanese troops having a midday meal in a clearing six miles away. This was a definite objective and the battery kept up constant fire as Mister Moto's observation planes kept pottering overhead.

Capt. Lawrence Meade of Redwood City, Calif., commander of one of the batteries, said of the shelling "these are to say 'hello' to Tojo."

Tojo, however, talked back a few minutes later with a series of rounds for 75's and 105's which splattered our fox holes with shrapnel and made more deep bomb shells holes all around the guns but caused no damage or casualties.

The Japanese fired twice the number of shells we had sent over, and Col. Alexander Quintard, regimental commander, explained "that's what we call retaliatory fire. It looks like Tojo got a little riled, which means we probably got our target. We like it when we make him waste so many shells."

"EXTRA DUTY"

FDR PUTS O. K. ON TIME BILL

Daylight Savings Will Be Effective At 2 A. M. February 9

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Roosevelt signed the daylight saving bill today and it becomes effective at 2 a. m. on the morning of Feb. 9, for all interstate commerce and federal government activities.

During congressional debate it was said that it was assumed the observance of daylight time, by moving all clocks ahead one hour, would become general throughout the nation.

The measure will become operative six months after the war ends, unless congress votes to terminate it before then.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said that it had the same objectives as the daylight-saving act of the last World War—"greater efficiency in our industrial war effort."

Congressional action was necessary, Early pointed out, so that there would be a uniform daylight saving system throughout all the states.

Matthews Will Address Horticulture Society

W. H. Matthews of Salem will appear on the program for the 75th annual banquet of the Ohio State Horticultural society at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 27, at Faculty club, O. S. U., Columbus.

Red Cross Campaign Off To Flying Start

Salem citizens today volunteered their finances as well as their efforts as the Salem Red Cross chapter's $10,000 war fund campaign got off to a flying start. The goal is expected to be reached by Saturday.

"What else can I do to help?" many givers asked Red Cross workers, Chairman E. S. Dawson related.

"There will be work for many volunteers," the official said, citing some of the opportunities for training and service under Red Cross.

A week ago a first aid training course was organized and additional registrations are being taken at the Red Cross headquarters in the Memorial building.

Because a paper shortage has delayed shipment of text books, Dawson urged graduates of previous courses, who have text books, to lend them to others, or notify the Red Cross office.

Production workers also are needed to make additional warm garments for soldiers in the remote outposts, and surgical dressings for the sick and wounded.

The Home Service department of the Red Cross offers persons interested in social service work an opportunity to play an important part in helping civilian morale. The Salem chapter stands ready to aid families of men in the armed force if the necessity arises.

WORK IS OUTLINED BY SALVAGE GROUP

Kerr Heads Committee To Round Up Scrap In Defense Move

With E. S. Kerr, superintendent of schools as chairman, a local Salvage committee has started preliminary plans for the collection of waste materials in Salem for the benefit of the war program.

Following his appointment by Ralph Atkinson as chairman of the Civilian Defense council, Kerr has named as members of his committee Carl Willman, John T. Burns, James H. Wilson and Ralph Hawley. This committee met Monday afternoon to prepare plans for a Salvage for Victory program within the city.

There is a national need for waste paper, scrap metals, old rags and rubber, but the first efforts of the committee are expected to be confined to a systematic collection of waste paper and scrap metals.

The program will seek to increase and expedite the flow of these waste materials and those who have donations to make are requested to await announcement, expected within a few days, of plans for regular collections. A central collection place will be selected and arrangements made to ship waste materials through established waste material trade channels.

RED SOLDIERS "CRACK WHIP"

Smash Hitler's Winter Defense Lines At Two Important Points

(By Associated Press)
Russia's armies, executing a gigantic crack-the-whip movement, were reported to have narrowed further the "escape corridor" of 100,000 German troops at Mzhalsk today and smashed Adolf Hitler's winter defense line at two important points.

The battle for Kharkov, Russia's "Pittsburg" in the Ukraine, also was reported entering a decisive phase.

Soviet dispatches said Red army troops supported by hard-riding Don Cossack cavalymen, had scored gains on both flanks of the Mzhalsk hold-out garrison, 37 miles west of Moscow.

Red Star, the Russian army newspaper, said Mzhalsk was burning and that hand-to-hand fighting was raging in the streets.

Soviet forces stormed across the Lama river 75 miles north of Moscow, sharpening the pressure above Mzhalsk, while other Russian forces intercepted the road to Warsaw 140 miles southwest of Moscow, it was reported.

Winter Nearing Peak
Front-line dispatches said the Russian winter was now approaching its peak, with temperatures colder than 25 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Meanwhile, in tones approaching panic, the Berlin press declared that the "on-rushing enemy must be stopped, no matter when, where or how."

ARGENTINA'S DELEGATION IS FALLING IN

Chile, The Other Holdout, Expected To Follow Argentina

ACTION POSSIBLE WITHIN TWO DAYS

Axis Plot To Torpedo Parley Apparently Has Back-fired

(By Associated Press)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 20.—A unanimous break in relations with the Axis powers by the 21 American republics within two days was predicted today by a high functionary of the Pan-American conference.

The informant, who declined to be quoted by name, said Argentina's attitude had been "radically modified" after her foreign minister, Dr. Enrique Ruiz Guinazu talked yesterday with Brazil's foreign minister, Oswaldo Aranha.

There were high hopes that Ruiz Guinazu would abandon his isolationist position completely.

Chile Expected To Follow
Argentina and Chile have been the lone holdouts, but observers have expressed the belief that Chile would follow the Argentine lead.

Chile drafted a proposal today calling for a conference of the general staffs of fighting forces of all the American nations, as the Pan-American conference neared its crucial decision on a joint severance of relations with the Axis.

The proposal for a rupture was expected to reach the full defense committee late today, and possibly the plenary session of the conference tomorrow.

As six subcommittees began studying dozens of resolutions submitted earlier, Sumner Welles of the American delegation and Brazilian Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha closeted themselves in the Itamaraty palace offices of Aranha. Shortly afterward they called the delegates of Venezuela and Colombia, who with Mexico, sponsored the resolution calling for a break.

19 Others In Agreement
Argentina and Chile have been the lone holdouts against the break, agreed to by the 19 other American republics.

German and Italian attempts to torpedo the Pan-American conference by thinly-veiled threats aimed at the South American nations appeared to have backfired today and conference leaders moved for a swift showdown on the proposed declaration of a solid front against the Axis.

The decision of a sub-committee to submit the anti-Axis declaration to a plenary session Thursday sharply intensified pressure on an Argentine delegation whose reluctance to make any commitments has promised to be the major obstacle to unanimous action.

Faced with the evidence that the conference was prepared to act regardless of its attitude, the Argentine group was reported to have asked for another 24 hours to make up its mind.

NEXT MONTH'S TIRE QUOTA IS REDUCED

Cut Applies To Passenger Cars, Busses; Trucks Increased

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Jan. 20.—Ohio's February quota of truck, bus and passenger automobile tires will be considerably under the number rationed in January, while a 37 per cent increase will be allowed in truck and bus tubes, the state defense council announced today.

The passenger automobile tire quota was fixed at 4,095, plus 361 for emergency. This was 20 per cent under the 5,082 granted for passenger cars and light trucks in January. The February tube quota is 3,397, compared with 4,229.

Tires for busses and all trucks were set at 7,965, plus 708 emergency, compared with 11,925.

Bus and truck tubes, however, were increased from January's 9,969 to 13,658.

Emergency tubes rationed were 302 for passenger cars and 1,214 for busses and trucks.

Here's the allotment for Columbiana, Mahoning and Stark counties:

Columbiana	32	120
Mahoning	110	100
Stark	143	120

Tire Theft Costly

—BUT THEY WILL MISS HIM

Americans are becoming reconciled to the prospect of tapering off on the use of automobiles if necessary, but it is a bitter pill for the tax collectors to swallow. The bureau of the census shows why in a little report currently taking the fun out of life for the revenue men.

The report shows that 22 percent of total state revenues have been coming from motorists in normal times. In Ohio, in 1939, a little more than 19 percent came from the tax experts' favorite people. The total in money was $53,630,000, divided as follows: Gas tax $41,132,000, motor vehicle tax $8,956,000 and motor car tax $521,000.

In some states, like Florida, if anything drastic happened to automobiles, the effect would be something like shooting Santa Claus. Florida obtained 45 percent of its revenue from the horseless carriage in 1939. Most of the revenue was used in one way or another for the benefit of motorists, chiefly for highway construction, but the tendency in recent years has been to divert a little here and there for other uses. The use tax now being collected for the first time by the federal government, for instance, is purely an impost on auto owners as a class.

RECREATION POLICY FOR WARTIME

President Roosevelt's persona, and unofficial opinion on the place of recreation in wartime, expressed to the high commissioner of baseball, might well have been issued as an official view. If there is need for baseball games to divert the minds of workers from their responsibilities when they are resting, there is a similar need for all normal sources of recreation.

This is in conflict with a theory sometimes heard that in wartime everything should be turned upside down—a theory that seems to be the product of failure to distinguish between confusion and efficiency. Americans have nothing whatever to gain from needless excitement; they cannot do their best work in a state of nervous exhaustion.

The is, of course, no excuse for an epidemic of public entertainment on the excuse that something extraordinary is needed for wartime. There is merely a great need for continuation of the recreations that have become integral parts of the population's mental balance. In many cases, recreation programs must be curtailed, but the fact of war should not be used as an excuse for making more dislocations in normal habits of living than are inevitable.

TAX SHOCK

Frequent warnings late in 1941, it is now evident, did not diminish the terrific impact of revenue reallocation early in 1942. There is a standard condition that may as well be called tax shock.

The victim appears to be brooding over some abstract problem. There is no light of recognition in his eyes as he approaches. He has a tendency to walk with an automaton's perfectly coordinated stride, as though he'd fallen down if he stopped.

If engaged in conversation on any topic under the sun, he will interrupt within a few seconds to say a few words about taxation. His mind is so full of taxation there is room for nothing else.

He has the air in general of a person on whom the light of a great, blazing reality has dawned. But he must have looked that way when he first tried to grasp the enormity of the Pacific ocean.

It is unnecessary to go further into the case history of a person with these symptoms. He is a fellow who always looked upon income taxes as a nuisance that ran up into big money in the cases of the remote rich, but who has just discovered by means of a little figuring that at long last he is right up there among "em—one of Uncle Sam's big taxpayers.

LIEUT. GEN. KNUDSEN

Coming so close behind a wave of confident statements about the way Donald Nelson would make the fur fly as chairman of a new war production board, appointment of William S. Knudsen to a new job doesn't leave much to add in his behalf. His new job, which gives him the rank of lieutenant general, carries with it the responsibility of acting as a sub-minister of supply for the army. In that capacity, he is expected to have greater opportunities to exercise his talents as a production expert than he had under the OPM setup which apparently is cracking up under its own weight of divided authority and commitments.

Perhaps it would be better, on the whole, if for the duration of the war appointees to new posts were to be given a sendoff of best wishes, with all assurances of spectacular results suspended till everybody has had a chance to see how things work out. When Mr. Knudsen came to Washington to take over the job of production chief, the buildup was at least as great as that now being given Mr. Nelson, who is supposed to do what somehow didn't get done satisfactorily the other way.

AN ARMY OF 3,600,000

At the close of World War I, the United States had an army of 3,673,000, almost exactly the same size as the army projected for 1942. Meanwhile, the population has increased by more than 25,000,000.

This is important as a gauge of the impact of the larger army on the nation as a whole. Even with allowances for the growth of the navy, the increase in special services and the demands made by mechanization on civilian labor supply, an army of 3,673,000 is not relatively large. Germany probably has twice as many men under arms. Russia three times as many. It is perhaps somewhat larger than the Japanese army, though certainly smaller than the Italian army.

At the beginning of the war in 1939, the United States had a smaller army than Yugoslavia. It was one of the few places on earth where soldiers were not conspicuously numerous. During the last year it has become accustomed to the sight of soldiers; during the next year, though there will be more soldiers, they will not be seen so often. The purpose of the training program undertaken with passage of the selective service act is plain now. It is to furnish enough trained manpower for the United States to speak with authority about the principles that have been attacked by the Axis.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, January 21

A DAY in which affairs may move to surprising and advanced goals of accomplishment, not only by methods of ingenuity, originality and innovation but also from the use of serious, discreet and tempered judgment and sound enterprise. It is a time for pushing for ambitious objectives, with the assurance of support from those in power and prestige but with some measure of recognition or acclaim from public, community, group or fraternal bodies.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate an eventful and interesting year, in which many new, novel, surprising and unforeseen adventures may prove dramatic and intriguing. Large transactions and unusual enterprises may be unusually accelerated, with the endorsement of those in high places.

A child born on this day while having good judgment, great enterprise, ingenuity, originality and unusual creative talents yet may suffer from subterfuge, schemes, and pernicious intrigues.

War is beginning to hit home in more ways than one. "The American way of life," of which we have talked so much, and fluently, is going to be short of its frills and flourishes for the duration. And, believe it or not, we are going to take it and like it.

Americans are now face to face with "Or Else," which, freely interpreted, means pull over to the curb and where do you think you are going? Yet we are not being robbed of our freedom—it's being synchronized for future assurance.

Now that the Russians have pierced the German center, they might try a little forward passing.

"DANCE OF THE HOURS"

THRIVING WITHOUT CALORY CHARTS

Man Has Been Doing It For Years, Says Clendenen

By LOGAN CLENDENEN, M. D.
IS INSTINCT a safe guide in our selection of food? To hear the professional dietitians talk, you would not think so. You would think that in order to eat a well-balanced meal, you had to have a table of calories and a pair of scales brought to the table and everything weighed and checked. Of course common sense tells you that this is an exaggeration, but to what extent must one know about the science of nutrition in order to eat in a hygienic manner?

Dr. Clendenen will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Well, it must be remembered that we ate instinctively for thousands of years, and as a matter of fact, our selection of the vitamins was instinctive. In other words, we selected foods that contained vitamins because we liked the foods, not because they contained vitamins. We liked their appearance, their smell and their taste and in the course of thousands of years, our physiology got so that it depended on the vitamins in the foods we liked. That instinct is still carrying on and, in general, if we select food that appeals to us, we will be well nourished and get our regular quota of vitamins.

The severe school of nutritionists does not agree with this. They think that our knowledge of vitamins and nutrition has so outrun our instinct, that in the modern world of processed foods we would do well to abandon instinct, or at least supplement it with scientific knowledge of what we are eating.

Instinct and Diet

But there is still much to be said, even by professional nutritionists, for instinct. Dr. McCarrison, an English physician stationed in India, writes, "My own experience provides an example of a race unsurpassed in perfection of physique and freedom from disease in general, whose sole food consists of this day of grains, vegetables and fruits, with a certain amount of milk and butter, and goat's meat only on feast days. I refer to the people of the State of Hunza, situated in the northern part of India."

Dr. McCarrison spent nine years among these people. The men have a magnificent physique, they live to a very great age and are extremely fertile.

Instinct in the case of some peoples is limited by their natural surroundings and what they can get. Stefansson found that the Eskimos, living on nothing but meat, which was about all the food available for them, suffered from no vitamin deficiency or nutritional lack, and he himself proved this by living on a meat diet for several years in the temperate climate of the city of New York.

Instinct Less Accurate
A moderate view of the matter is stated by a very eminent dietitian, Dr. Casimir Funk, who gave their name to vitamins, when he says that whether we take the view that instinct has become saturated with intelligence so that in highly civilized man it is of little moment, or whether we agree with Metchnikoff that our instinctive actions have become perverted, there seems to be a general agreement that instinct in man is becoming less and less potent and accurate.

Our intellect, which has largely displaced it, can not serve us as well in the selection of food, for though one of the characteristics of this intellect is that it builds on the accumulated experiences of the past, the food we eat today is vastly different from the food we ate in the past.

But the summation of all the things that are taught in the laboratory is that we should eat plenty of such natural foods as milk, eggs, butter, cereals, vegetables, and add meat, which contains plenty of vitamins, and then we may allow instinct to take care of the rest of our dietary.

Questions And Answers
C. G. H.—Are rye and pumpernickel breads as fattening as white breads?

Answer: Rye has 252 calories, white 259 calories per 100 grams. Almost the same.

B. B.—Is there any effective treatment for chronic mastitis in a woman of forty? Is there danger of more serious trouble following, such as cancer?
Answer: Chronic mastitis is a chronic inflammation of the breast, probably the commonest disease to which the breast is subject—particularly at your age. It is often mistaken for cancer, but I do not believe it ever turns into cancer if it is not cancer at the beginning. If your physician assures you it is not cancer, I do not believe any serious consequences are likely to follow.

"THURSDAY'S CHILD" by VERA BROWN

FROM THE OLD RHYME: "THURSDAY'S CHILD HAS FAR TO GO"

CHAPTER ONE

The red-haired girl behind the lunch-counter turned the ham-burgers on the grill and bit her lip to keep the tears back.

Not for anything in the world would Leslie Richardson want to know she was so close to weeping. Above the sputter of the grease she heard the whir of the nickel phonograph. She stifled. It would be the almost historic "The Music Goes Round and Round." It always was! Leslie guessed rightly. She drew a sharp breath. Then Spike had already heard about the quarrel!

"I can't bear it!" For a moment she was afraid she had spoken aloud, but Spike made no comment, climbed back onto a stool at the counter and watched the girl speculatively. It was always fun to make Sonny mad. He started to hum the rollicking tune, then pitched into the bread and ketchup pretending to be unaware of her averted face, her tense shoulders. The first thing he'd heard that day, was that Sonny and her foster-father had had another row over the song which now filled the little roadside eating place. So, of course, Spike had pulled into the Richardson filling station with his big truck to get the latest bulletins on the big fight.

"Dames are funny," Spike mused aloud. Sonny did not turn her head. Just why should anybody fight over a phonograph record? He couldn't understand it. Not when they had so many other things to quarrel about. The old man was a tough customer. No use arguing with him.

It was not in the little lunchroom on the Dixie Highway that June night. Beads of perspiration stood out on Sonny's upper lip.

"Make it snappy, kid, and don't cook 'em too much!" Spike warned.

He'd like to have heard the row. Sonny was a fiery little thing. Hope she told the guy off. She didn't usually stand up to him. She was too scared.

If Spike was intent on the quarrel, so was the girl. Its violence had left Sonny sick and weak. She had been appalled at her own fury. Color flooded into her face as she remembered how Dick Cawthorn had kept her from throwing a plate at her foster-father.

But she hated that record so. And she'd asked him please to let the man change it. Richardson had refused brusquely. It was a money-maker. Sonny had kept her temper pretty well until Richardson remarked that she was more like her mother every day. Then she had grabbed the record from the service man's hand, smashed it into a hundred pieces at Richardson's feet.

"Dames are funny," Spike mused aloud.

Without even looking at her, Richardson calmly ordered the man to get another record to replace the broken one. It was then Sonny turned on her foster father. She had said a lot of things she had wanted to scream at him for a long time. She had told him she hated her life, the cluttered living-room back of the lunchroom which she never found time to keep tidy, her own bedroom, her shabby clothes.

When she had stopped for lack of strength, Richardson said coolly: "Cook me some pork chops. I want my dinner."

The girl's defeat was complete. She went back to her work. That had been two hours ago, but Sonny was still trembling from the storm. The memory brought hot tears to her eyes so that she could not see the cooking meat. The song beat out its hateful rhythm.

"What's eatin' you, tonight?" Spike asked, when she served him.

"The heat!" she snapped and went back to wash the dishes.

Almost nine. In another hour she would be free—free to lock herself in her hot little bedroom at the back of the store and cry herself to sleep. Free, until six o'clock in the morning when the night man left. For Richardson was meticulous about the help he paid. They worked their eight hours. If Sonny worked the clock around that did not matter.

Spike laid the money for his supper on the counter, lit a cigarette. Sonny knew he wanted to talk, but she couldn't. As a pretense she went into the storeroom for more soap chips. She heard a car stop, the screen door slam. More customers.

When she returned to the lunchroom, Spike was leaving. He nodded and grinned.

"See you tomorrow. Keep your chin up."

A strange young man was putting in a long distance telephone call to New York.

"Thomas Hollister, and reverse the charges," he was saying.

His companion, a personable young chap, sat at a table near the window. Parked outside, Sonny could see a smart new trailer outfit. The caravan screamed money. Even Sonny in her inexperience recognized that.

"Hope you're a better cook than my pal," said the young man at the table with a grin, as Sonny waited to take his order.

Hollister came over to the table, while he waited for his telephone call.

"I may be a poor cook but my judgment's good." He nodded toward Sonny.

Jamie Hicks laughed. "Not bad, I admit."

Sonny's cheeks burned. It was all she could do to refrain from making a smart retort.

They ordered chicken sandwiches and milk. As Sonny filled the order, the telephone rang.

"I'll take it. It's probably my call," Hollister called. He talked a long time. Sonny heard his conversation without interest.

"It's swell, Mom, we're going to drive on tonight. Of course, we'll be careful. We're near Monroe—in Michigan."

When he finally hung up the receiver, he went over to the phonograph and dropped in some nickels.

"Please, not that awful song again!" Sonny prayed. It wasn't. It was a brisk rumba, done by Al Corey's famous band.

When Hollister returned to the table he remarked:

"This looks as though it were going to be a nice evening."

Jamie agreed enthusiastically. "Wonder if she's got a friend?"

"If she has, she won't be good looking. They never are!"

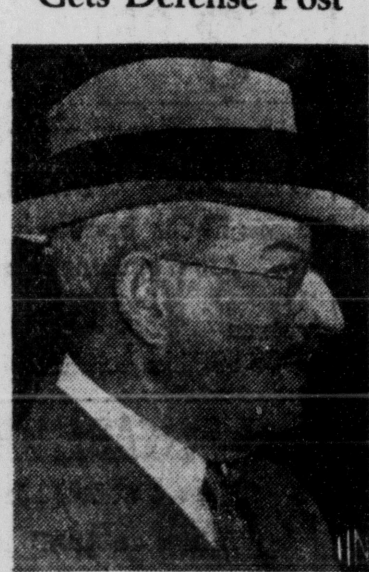

He watched Sonny's red head bent over the sandwiches she was making.

"Looks as though she might be able to step on a dance floor. These small-time girls surprise you, sometimes."

Art In Relation To Living Discussed At Joint Meeting

An inspirational talk on art in relation to everyday living was given by Mrs. Miriam E. Cramer, Cleveland sculptress and art teacher, at the annual joint meeting of the Travelers, Book and Salem Music Study clubs at the library room Monday afternoon.

Mrs. C. L. Hartsough, Book club head, welcomed the three groups and guests. Mrs. John T. Burns, Salem Music Study club program chairman, presented Miss Georgiana Beaver, violinist who played two numbers, "Spanish Dance" (Ravel) and "Meditation" from

Mrs. Cramer is a regular exhibitor at the Cleveland art museum, whose bronzes and sculptures have been placed in institutes and museums throughout the country. Declaring that the chief value of art was to teach the art of living, she said that all art training taught honesty, purpose, straight thinking and seeing, interest and trust in man, faith, humility and true religion. Art, she said, is an expression of true democracy and the long-enduring sign of civilization.

SINGER ACCLAIMED IN CONCERT HERE

Singing a colorful and varied program, Brier Stoller, young American soprano, delighted the audience which heard her concert last night at the High school auditorium in the second of three concerts to be given this year by the Northern Columbiana Concert association.

The youthful charm of the former Chicago girl, who has been acclaimed as among the finest young American singers, contrasted greatly with the quality of voice and perfection of technique which critics say are found only in older and more experienced artists.

Among the numbers which received enthusiastic response were the dramatic aria, "Sulcidio" from "La Gioconda" (Ponchielli); the gay "Vergebliches Standchen" (Brahms); the beautiful "Beau Soir" music written by Debussy to a poem by Paul Bourget; the aria, "Roi de Thule" and the "Jewel Song" from "Faust" (Gounod); and "The Last Song," a work by Miss Stoller's accompanist, Franz Mittler, which received its first performance last night.

Beethoven's "Rondo in C Major" and his own "A Ballet Waltz" and "Music Box" were beautifully played by Mr. Mittler.

Out Of Season

REPORT TRANSPORT 7 MILES OFF COURSE

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 20.—The Transcontinental and Western Air transport which carried Carole Lombard, 15 ferry pilots and six other to death was seven miles off its course and presumably did not have engine trouble, investigators reported today.

A TWA spokesman said the luxury ship was seven miles northwest of its course. He stated the course is 25 miles wide and that TWA planes are not routed over such high peaks as the 8,700-foot mountain into which the ship crashed Friday night.

Nineteen of the 22 bodies have been brought to the Garrison mortuary here. Arrival of three others was delayed overnight when a horse carrying one plunged down a mountainside, became lodged between trees and had to be destroyed.

Intrigue in Death?

Von Reichenau

Did Field Marshal Walther von Reichenau of Germany die from apoplexy? The British press greeted that announcement with considerable skepticism, as writers hinted the true cause may have been sinister intrigue behind the back of Adolf Hitler. Some took the view von Reichenau was eliminated as an open challenge by the army to Hitler. Von Reichenau was given a large share of the credit for Germany's sweeping victories in the west.

tanks with shells and grenades, when two waves of machines came head-on down a jungle road in the Muar area.

Japanese tank crews were picked off, many by man, as they crawled from the burning machines, but Japanese snipers filtered through the rubber groves and soon were shooting from the tree tops about the Australians.

All through Sunday the Australians held their ground, until a relieving force fought its way through and mopped up the encircled.

Australian dispatches said this was the first time a Japanese flank attack of this nature had been turned back.

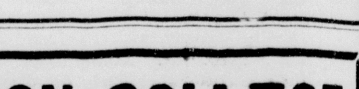

Even the presence of United States bombers, striking behind the Japanese lines, appeared unable to make up the air shortage which was making defense difficult.

The United States war department announced yesterday that American army bombers attacked Japan's Sungai Patani airfield in Thailand last Thursday, starting fires among aircraft and in the hangar area.

Hospital Officers Named; Hear Report

Trustees and officers of the Salem City Hospital association were re-elected at the board's annual meeting Monday night when Miss Esther Wilson, hospital superintendent, reviewed the work of the last year.

The trustees, named for three-year terms, include Mrs. R. B. Kernohan, Mrs. Burr Leeper, Mrs. Albert Kaufman, Ralph W. Hawley and Raymond K. Kates. Officers re-elected by the trustees are: President, D. B. McCune; vice president, Mrs. L. B. Harris; treasurer, L. H. Colley; secretary, Atty South Metzger.

Reports on Kitchen Job
Miss Wilson disclosed in her report that the work of remodeling the main kitchen and dining room of the hospital had been completed at a cost of approximately $30,000. The project was started July 7.

The kitchens have been improved with modern, new equipment, including a new refrigeration system and an electric "dumb waiter." Equipment purchased during the year also included a resuscitation apparatus for emergency use for adults and infants, used in all forms of respiration failure and asphyxiation from gas, drowning, electric shock, etc., an emergency lamp for the operating room and a rebuilt converter to operate the giant eye magnet.

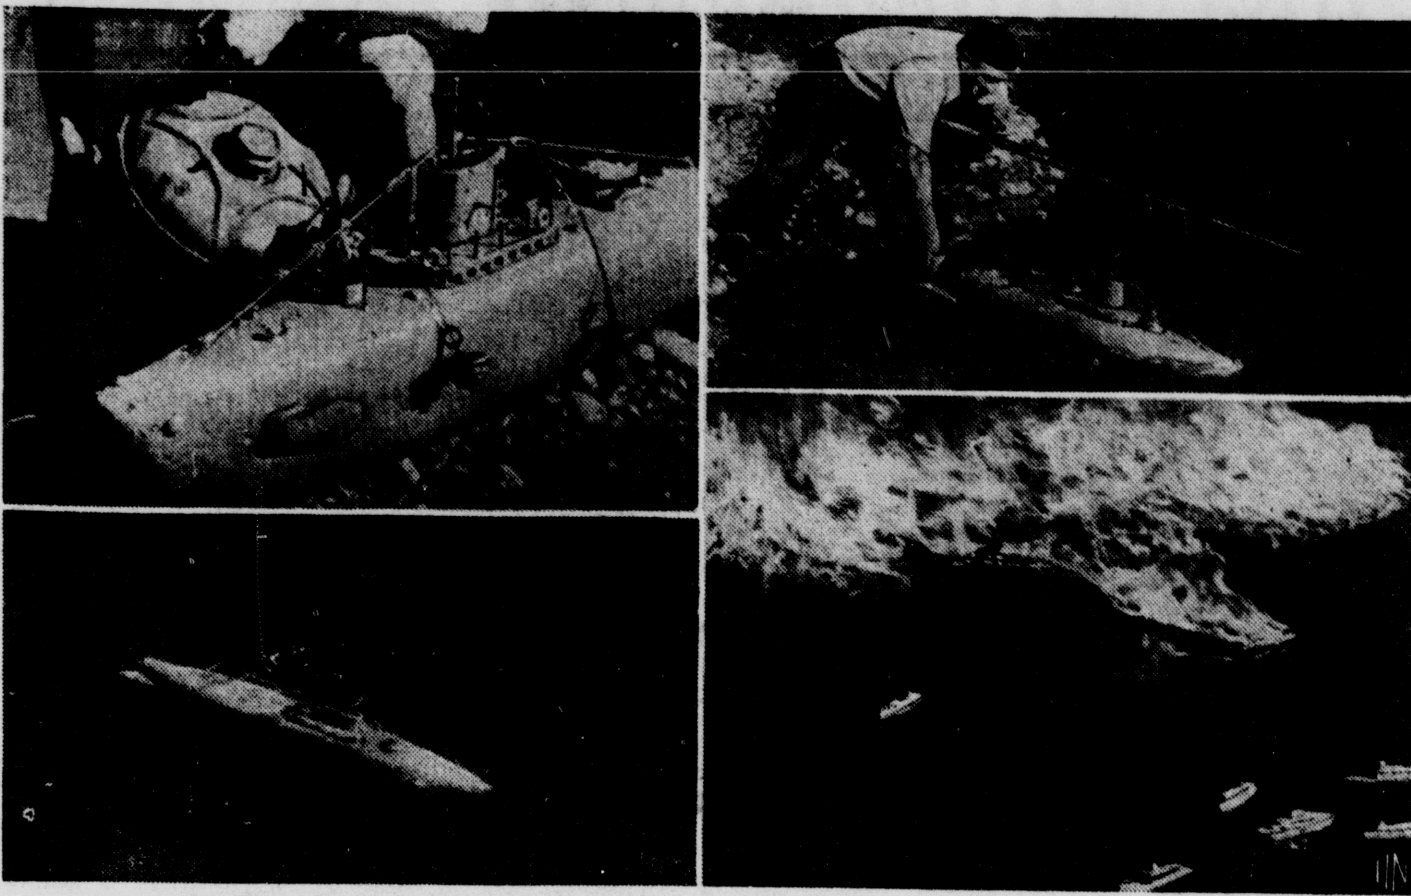

Early in the year rubber tile floors were placed in all of the rooms of the east section of the second floor, the medical staff room, the superintendent's office and the medical record library. Five rooms on the second floor were refurnished through public gifts.

The hospital reported gross income for 1941 totaling $93,390, compared with $120,278 the previous year.

1,840 Patients in 1941
During 1941 a total of 1,840 patients were admitted, the largest number on record for a single year. The figure for 1940 was 1,550 patients. The total days treatment, however, was less, Miss Wilson said. The hospital operated without the tuberculosis department last year. Total admissions to the obstetrical department showed an increase over the previous year of 100 mothers and 93 infants.

Among members of the hospital personnel are: W. D. King, credit manager; Miss Mary Schmotzer, surgical supervisor; Mrs. Fred Cope, part-time clinical laboratory technician; Miss Florence Hiltbrand, stenographer; Miss Iona Bower of Alliance, chief medical record librarian; and Miss Hazel West of Cleveland, instructress of nurses.

New Flame-Throwing Submarine for the Navy

John Edwin Hogg, of Alhambra, Cal., shows his latest invention, a flame-throwing submarine. The sub would be loaded with 2,000 tons of a special fast-burning fuel for use at enemy fleet bases. The fuel would be discharged and fired with a detonator, setting a blaze over five miles of water. Top, left, inventor Hogg fills the model with oil; right, he sends the craft to its destination. Bottom, left, the oil is discharged, and right, the fire rages among the miniature ships. Naval authorities are said to be watching his experiments with deep interest.

This Newspaper is Filled With DYNAMITE!

Dynamite is a useful substance. It blasts out roads and tunnels, clears stumps, defends us against encroaching enemies.

But misuse it at your own peril! It can blow you into kingdom-come.

Your newspaper is useful, too. It brings you a daily record of what happens around you and an assortment of OPINIONS—to go with its usually accurate FACTS.

But PLEASE do not MISUSE it. From your newspaper you can learn how to divorce a wife, how to rob a bank.

as you change public officials, laws, customs, habits every day. But don't deny them or hide from them. That is dynamite.

The opinions, right or wrong, are there because every man has opinions. And, in AMERICA, every man has a right to his opinions. But don't accept every opinion blindly. That is dynamite.

Usually you will find OPINIONS on BOTH SIDES. Weigh them, think about them. You MUST. You are a citizen and a voter. What you and a thousand or a million others DECIDE will decide the fate of this nation. There's PLENTY of dynamite if you decide WRONGLY.

And FACT and opinion aren't merely limited to the news and editorial columns. They are both found in the advertisements also. Just the same as you need to know what all candidates for office have to offer so you can choose between them, you need to know what all merchants and manufacturers have to offer so you can decide how to spend your income to the best advantage.

Dictators do not believe the people can be trusted with all the facts and all the opinions and a free right of choice.

And the dictators are RIGHT—if they want to go on being dictators! Any American newspaper worthy of the name is dynamite—dangerous dynamite—for a would-be dictator, mighty useful dynamite for a man who wants to protect his freedom.

In Germany, Italy, Russia, Japan, a government agency decides what the people shall read and hear. Not so in America. Do your part to preserve the American way of life.

You can learn the opinions of every Communist and every brutal Nazi who makes news. You are told how crooked politicians operate and how to wreck yourself in an automobile.

When you come to think of it, you realize that such news is brought you to forearm and forewarn you—so robbers, crooks and dictators CAN'T harm you. And you will admit that such news is absolutely necessary for free men who want to guard their freedom.

Note well that your newspaper contains TWO KINDS of news.

1. FACT 2. OPINION

The facts, good or bad, you cannot dodge. You may change them,

Read, each Tuesday in this space, the messages about your liberty and how America's newspapers help you defend it. Your letters of comment will be appreciated by the editor and by this committee—Newspaper Publishers Committee, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt drafts request for congress for $3,000,000 to ease plight of workers suffering job-suspensions while industry shifts to war production. Under the plan, an estimated 4,000-5,000 men will receive up to $24 a week for 26 weeks while training for war production jobs.

MELBOURNE, Australia—Prime Minister John Curtin expresses hope that China's representations, "added to our own, will result in the British government becoming aware of the intense gravity of the Pacific situation." Curtin's comment followed a statement by a member of the Chinese republic's founding family that China might make a separate peace with Japan if allied aid were not forthcoming.

HAMILTON, N. Y.—Dr. George Barton Cullen, president of Colgate university, announces he will retire Aug. 31 after 20 years of service. He is 67.

LOS ANGELES—Opening of 15th semi-annual wholesale furniture market weeks brings out these war trends:

Soft padding in davenport and upholstered chairs to compensate for reduction in steel springs. Onyx bases for floor lamps, replacing needed metals. Darker furniture due to priorities on bleaching agent chlorine. American hardwoods instead of Philippine mahogany.

ALTHOUSE MOTORS TRIM SAXON FIVE BY 35-33 MARGIN

Salem China, West Siders Win Initial Class B Encounters

The winless Althouse Motors finally came through with a win in a tight battle with the Saxons, 35-33, on the Memorial building hardwood last night. After losing several ball games consecutively by close margins, the Motors got the breaks and wound up on the long end of the score.

Their scoring was pretty well divided with Al Outlets nabbing individual honors for the winners with 11 points. Ed Jeffries and Gordy Scullion dropped in eight apiece. Rudy Schuster led the Saxons in the scoring column as well as taking high point honors for the contest as he tallied four field goals and a like number of free throws for a 12-point total. The rest of the point-making was split among six other players.

The Salem China outfit in Class B finally won its first game of the season last night, trimming the favored Y. P. C. C. five, 30-31. Tony Julian and Pat Nocera, a new addition to the squad, featured for the Pottery five with 12 and 10 tallies. Felix Di Antonio and Mike Hippley scored 14 and 10 points respectively to lead the losers.

In the other battle, the West Side A. C., a new entry in the league this round, trimmed a winless Trades Class quintet to the tune of 24-16. Will Davis scored six to pace the winners with the rest of the scoring being well divided. Ralph "Jerk" Landwert flipped in five to feature for the Tradesmen.

BOWLING RESULTS

First place in the American league standings changed hands in last night's bowling as Peoples Lumber took three from Demings to slip into the top slot. Fernengel's pace-setter up until last night, dropped a pair to the American Laundry five. High scores in the two matches were made by: Art Lind, 209; Jesse Youtz, 207; Nannah, 207; Campbell, 203; and Lottman, 200.

In other matches rolled on the Masonic alleys, the Electric Furnace copped two from Leases and Fitzpatrick's took the same number from Firestone's.

A 209 by W. Stewart of the Electric Furnace keglers was top game in the last two matches mentioned.

Rolling off a postponed match besides their regularly scheduled one on the Grate alleys, the Althouse Motors took over first place in the Quaker City league as they copped all six games, three from Bliss and the same number from Coy's in the postponed match. Earl Grate's 210 in the postponed match took individual honors for both sets of games. He also hit a 202 in the other match, while W. Willis scored an even 200. Reiter upheld Bliss with a 201.

The Acres lost their first place perch by virtue of a lone defeat at the hands of the Golden Eagle. Charley Huffner's 206 was tops in the single game scores for the winners while H. Walker hit a 203 to uphold the losers.

Capel's lost a fine chance to pick up more ground at the expense of the Lape Hotel keglers but managed to take only one game from them. Dal DeRhodes fired a 214 for top game of the match while George "Pie" Baillie hit a 203 for the winning Lape team.

The Quaker Orphans won only one game last night against Gonda's but Sid Beechy of that team turned in the high game of the evening as he fired a 257 on the Grate alleys. Nevertheless, his fine game was overshadowed by M. Wukart's 605 series, compiled on 202, 203 and 200 games.

In other matches the Mullins Cutting team, replacing the Salem Polo club in the race, lost three to Coy's. England's 202 was high game. The surprising Hawk's five came through with a shutout over the Masons in the other match on the schedule.

RUSSIAN TROOPS "CRACK THE WHIP"

Ukraine, claimed success only in the Crimean campaign.

The Nazi high command said Russian troops fighting northeast of Feodosiya, which was reported recaptured by the Germans yesterday, had been driven eastward along the Kerch peninsula.

Three German divisions were vanquished in the Lema river crossing, said the government newspaper Izvestia, the Russians thrusting from Volokolamsk through Latshino.

Reoccupation of Vereya, 13 miles southeast of Mazhaisk, and Kondrovo, in the Vyazma-Bryansk zone to the west, moved closer to German communication lines the southern arm of the Mozhaisk pincer.

Kharkov Seize Near Crisis

Fighting for Kharkov, industrial metropolis of the Donets basin, was by both London and Berlin reports apparently in a decisive stage. The British radio said the Germans acknowledged the base "is being furiously attacked by Soviet forces from the north and the south."

Reuters, British news agency, estimated Germany had lost 2,000 men, killed, severely wounded, missing and prisoners in the Russian campaign.

Evidence that Adolf Hitler was seeking replacements from junior partners in the Axis came from Bern, Switzerland.

Bern dispatches said Hungary had agreed to German-Italian demands for more military assistance in the war against Russia. Hungary, which has sent only a token force east, was reported to have been asked by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop to show "the same loyalty as Rumania".

Russian figures indicate Rumania has sent 26 divisions against the Red army and has lost 13 of them.

Judge Joel H. Sharp presided when testimony was submitted, after three war veterans' organizations urged a division of part of the balance among four East Liverpool soldiers units.

END OF STRUGGLE ON PRICE BILL SEEN

Conference Group Indicates Compromise Will Be Achieved

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A joint senate-house conference committee gave evidence today that it was nearing the end of a 16-day struggle to reach a compromise on the highly controversial farm sections of the administration's price control bill.

With leaders reported to have suggested that President Roosevelt be given the final decision on agriculture prices, members said that horse trading apparently was underway for the first time since discussions began last week.

The presidential check was said to have been proposed in an effort to compromise a senate-approved amendment by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), which would empower the secretary of agriculture to veto ceilings placed on farm prices by the administrator as proposed in the bill.

It was suggested, instead, informed sources said, that the administrator be allowed to fix the price. If the agriculture secretary found fault with the stipulated figure he could refer the matter to the President for a final decision.

It was evident, however, that Bankhead had no relish for such a proposal. He told reporters he was confident his amendment would remain in the bill and claimed almost unanimous backing by farm organizations. The President previously had opposed the suggested dual controls over farm prices.

Some conferees said the committee might get through with its work today, but Chairman Brown (D-Mich.) was not so optimistic. He said that a "bitter struggle" still was going on over the farm provisions of the measure.

The house and senate, meanwhile, marked time with minor bills, awaiting conclusion of the conference. The house appropriations committee went to work on President Roosevelt's request for $28,000,000,000 for the army and navy, with leaders predicting that the huge wartime supply bill would be ready in short order.

NO RATIONING OF USED CARS LOOMS

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, told representatives of 42,000 automobile dealers today "as far as the office of price administration is concerned, there is not now any prospect of rationing used cars or of commandeering private cars."

His address was read to the National Automobile Dealers Association by Cyrus McCormick, chief of the OPA automobile and truck section. Convention headquarters said the statement relieved a tension that had disturbed the trade badly.

"I have frequently been asked," Henderson said, "whether we contemplate any need to ration used cars."

"All I can say is that as far as the office of price administration is concerned, there is not now any prospect either of rationing used cars or of commandeering private cars."

Henderson predicted failure for some automobile dealers, and loss of jobs for many employees, but said he anticipated there would be work in defense production for every unemployed man before long.

In rationing new cars, Henderson declared the OPA has provided that cars now frozen would pass through the hands of dealers when sold. He said he could not promise the army and navy would buy them from dealers at the full retail price.

HENDERSON ORDER PEGGS GAS PRICES

Must Remain At Or Below Level Of Last Nov. 7, Is Ruling

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Retail dealers in all grades of gasoline received notice from Price Administrator Leon Henderson today that their prices must remain at or below the level of last Nov. 7, or a price ceiling will be imposed.

The warning was contained in a general letter to producers, refiners and marketers of petroleum products clarifying price questions on petroleum and a list of specified petroleum products which temporarily are pegged at the November 7 level.

While gasoline sold at service stations, curbed pumps, marine service stations and other retail outlets was not formally included in the list of affected products, Henderson's letter said:

"It must be understood, however, that these prices should remain substantially at or below Nov. 7 levels. If they do not, a formal ceiling order will be promulgated placing them under full control."
